Solution Architecture:

Solution architecture is a complex process – with many sub-processes – that bridges the gap between business problems and technology solutions.

Solution Architecture Diagram:
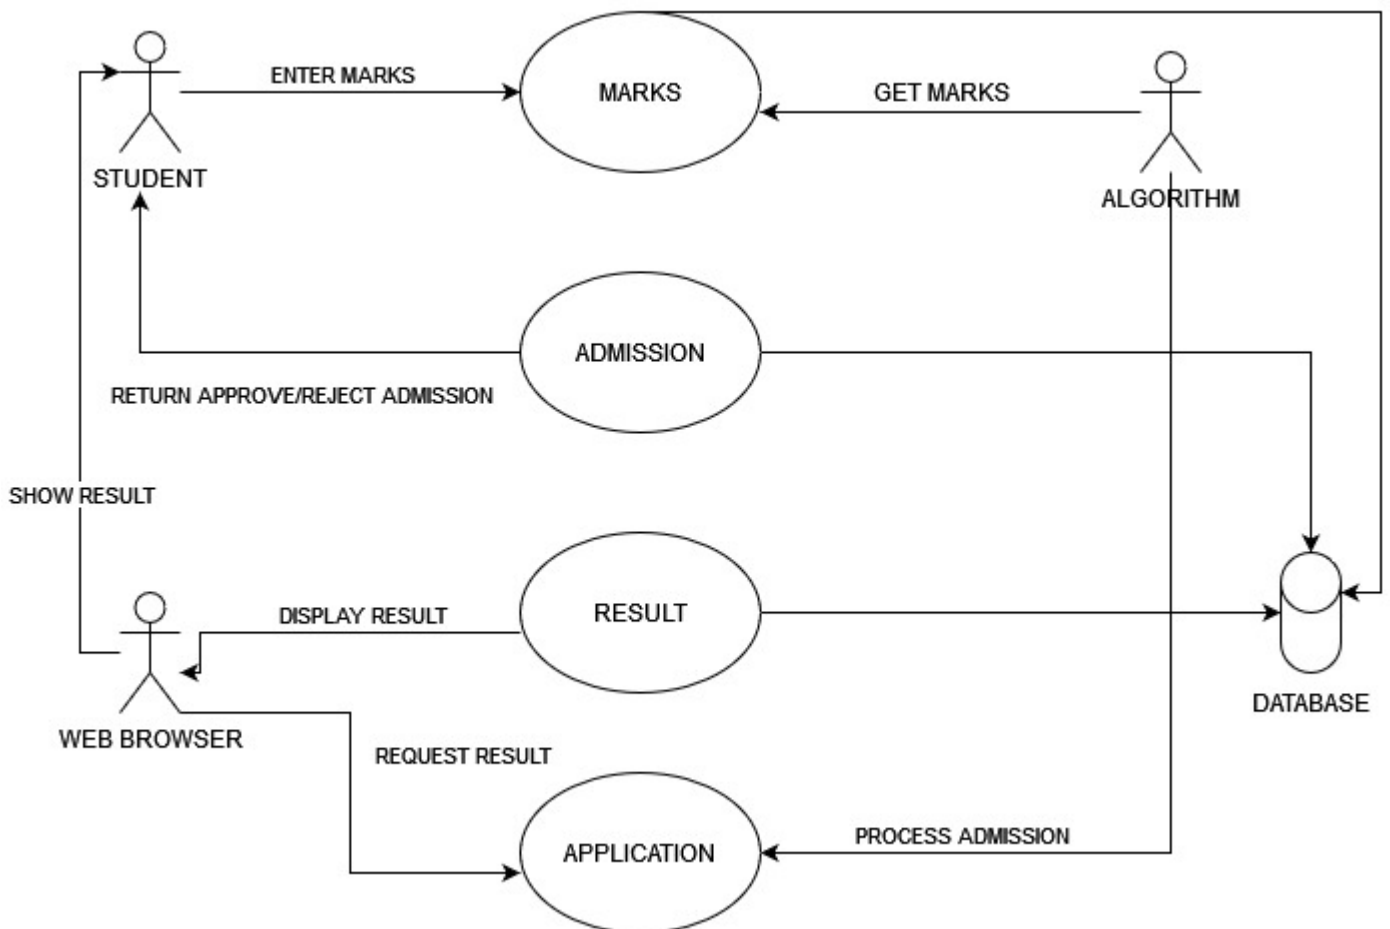

1. A python-based app is developed and released by an application developer.

2. Through a web-based application, students may input the data.

3. Data submitted by the student may be trained in the background and returned with the outcome.

4. The quotations will be sent to the user interface based on the outcome.

5. This result of student is displayed in the web app
